Learning meekness plays important role in disability work

Having worked at NEDSRA for a few years now, I've gotten a sense that working here is different from any other job I have had previously. I have not been able to adequately describe it until now. People who work with individuals with disabilities are meek.

What do you think of this term? The definition of the word meek is "showing of quietness, absence of feeling better than others, humbleness, down-to-earthness, modesty, unpretentiousness."

Without doing any polling, my gut feeling is that most people view "meek" as a negative term in America, the land of competitiveness and winning-is-everything attitudes. And for me, initially, this term was a little off-putting because I grew up in the competitive battlefield of high-level sports where aggressive traits were required.

However, as I have transitioned into my new world of working with people with special needs, I understand the work requires meekness, putting others' needs before your own, a lack of ego and a quiet fortitude. Most importantly, the work requires you to be in the moment. The most relatable experience I've had to special needs work is raising a young child where your sole responsibility is to protect, guard and be ever vigilant.

I applaud the many part-time staffers and volunteers at NEDSRA who come to work every day to humble themselves to the task at hand. Their modesty and unpretentiousness create a work culture I thoroughly enjoy and of which I want to be a part.

I also can relate special needs work to teachings in the Bible, specifically Matthew 11: 29-30, which states, "Wear my yoke for it is perfect, and let me teach you. For I am gentle and humble, and you shall find rest for your souls."

The Bible also says the meek shall inherit the Earth.

Blazers bully Downers Grove South

By JASON ROSSI

jrossi@shawmedia.com

DOWNERS GROVE – Jake Atiyeh and his Addison Trail football teammates entered their game against Downers Grove South with a pair of impressive victories attached to their name.

Even with solid wins against Glenbard South and Hinsdale Central, Atiyeh thought the Blazers surprised the Mustangs during a 21-0 win on Sept. 12.

"We definitely caught them off guard," Atiyeh said. "They came off a big win against Proviso [West] and I don't know if they were expecting us to come out as strong as we did tonight."

AT, which improved to 3-0 overall and 1-0 in the West Suburban Gold with the win, got on the board on quarterback Mike Rybarczyk's 84-yard run midway through the first quarter on the Blazers' eighth play from scrimmage.

After Rybarczyk and Atiyeh hooked up for a seven-yard touchdown late in the first quarter, the Blazers had two touchdowns before the Mustangs (1-2, 0-1) had earned a first down.

While Atiyeh believed the Blazers stormed an unsuspecting DGS team, AT head coach Paul Parpet said it was crisp execution that led to the win.

"We hit the big play to get us on the board and I think that caught them off guard a little bit, but it was another great team win for us," Parpet said. "We can run the football consistently, we're playing some pretty good defense and our special teams are sound. If you can do those three things, not a whole lot of people are going to beat you."

Rybarczyk and Jaavion Bradley hooked up on a 15-yard touchdown pass on a fourth down play late in the second quarter to extend the lead to 21-0, but the defense was the star of the game.

The Blazers' defense had four sacks (three by Josh Simko) and recovered three fumbles and held the Mustangs to just 124 yards on offense.

"I'm very happy with the way we're running the football and I'm very happy with the way we're playing defense," Parpet said. "To come to a place like Downers South and shut them out on their home field? That's pretty impressive."

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

Pace picks up in chase for Peoria

By DAN SANTAROMITA

dsantaromita@shawmedia.com

The starting gun has gone off on the boys cross country season and area teams are hoping the season ends with a trip to Peoria for the state meet. Here's the outlook for Addison Trail, Glenbard East, Montini and Willowbrook.

Addison Trail Blazers

Coach: Brad Donaldson

Conference: West Suburban Gold

Top runners

Name	Year
Demetrio Cervantes	so.
Luis Eugenio	sr.
Raymond Loi	sr.
Jeff Maginity	sr.

Outlook: Sophomore Demetrio Cervantes has emerged as one of the top runners in a senior-heavy lineup. Cervantes ran the fastest time for the Blazers at the First to the Finish Invitational at Detweiller Park in Peoria.

Senior Luis Eugenio, who also is on the Addison Trail

Montini's Matt Fisch runs at the IC Knights Invite on Saturday. Fisch is part of a strong senior group looking to lead the Broncos to the state meet for the first time.

Blazettes pom squad, is one of the top returners on the team as well.

Glenbard East Rams

Coach: Chris Pietsch

Conference: Upstate Eight Valley

Top runners

Name	Year
Alex Delgado	jr.
Patrick Mikel	jr.
Josh Schaefer	jr.
Casey Wenglewski	so.

Outlook: Juniors Patrick Mikel and Josh Schaefer have been the Rams' top two runners in their first two invites of the season.

In addition, juniors Alex Delgado, Russell Karas and senior Davarus Jones are runners who have competed so far this season that also were a part of the regional lineup that advanced to the sectional race last year.

Montini Broncos

Coach: Joe Mordente

Conference: N/A

Top runners

Cameron Casey	sr.
Matt Fisch	sr.
Eddie Laviste	sr.
Tyler Pacana	sr.

Outlook: Montini has 22 runners, its largest ever squad and twice the size of a year ago. In addition, the top four runners from last year are back.

The senior quartet of Tyler Pacana, Cameron Casey, Matt Fisch and Eddie Laviste lead the way, but freshman Jake Mondschean and sophomore Dominick Moran have posted good times so far.

Boys track coach Eric Brechtel has joined the staff and the training routine has been altered for the team.

"Many of the boys are finally starting to adjust to the new training and look to have breakout seasons," coach Joe Mordente said. "Montini has never had a boys cross country team qualify for the state meet. That is the primary goal for this year's squad."

The Broncos are not in a conference this season, but still will have a meet with St. Francis, Marmion and Aurora Christian, other teams left over from the Suburban Christian Conference.

Willowbrook Warriors

Coach: T.J. Artman

Conference: West Suburban Gold

Top runners

Name	Year
Jimmy Funteas Jr.	sr.
Casey King	so.
Marco Martinez	jr.
Chris Turek	jr.

Outlook: Sectional qualifier Jimmy Funteas Jr. is Willowbrook's top runner this season and the only senior among the Warriors' top four.

Juniors Marco Martinez and Chris Turek and sophomore Casey King round out a clear-cut top four for Willowbrook. They helped the Warriors take 40th out of 49 teams at the First to the Finish race in Peoria's Detweiller Park. Funteas was 59th individually.

"Lots of other guys are competing for the remaining spots, from freshmen to seniors," coach T.J. Artman said. "The team goal is to win the conference title and qualify runners to state."

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

State meet goals for Addison Trail, Montini, area teams

By DAN SANTAROMITA

dsantaromita@shawmedia.com

The high school girls cross country season is in its early stages and as the season progresses runners will be setting their sights on the state meet in Peoria. Here's the outlook for the girls teams from Addison Trail, Glenbard East, Montini and Willowbrook.

Addison Trail Blazers

Coach: Kirsten Olson

Conference: West Suburban Gold

Top runners

Name	Year
Diana Grinyuk	fr.
Jennifer Hurtado	sr.
Megan Levonyak	sr.
Maria Ramos	so.

Outlook: A number of varsity newcomers are playing significant roles for the Blazers this fall.

Diana Grinyuk was AT's top runner at the First to the Finish Invitational. Senior Rachel Baumgartner, junior Jennifer Ortiz and Maria Ramos are also among the newcomers to the program.

Glenbard East Rams

Coach: Joe Latala

Conference: Upstate Eight Valley

Top runners

Name	Year
Cailyn Biegalski	fr.
Allison Hansen	sr.
Kelly Heniff	sr.
Olivia Romas	jr.
Yoselin Toledo	jr.

Outlook: Allison Hansen took first Saturday at the Royal-Cadet Invitational to pick up a medal. Hansen cut more than 40 seconds off her regional race time from last year.

After Hansen, the Rams have some young runners showing well so far. Returners Yoselin Toledo and Olivia Romas have had been among the team's top runners in two invites so far.

Cailyn Biegalski has run with the JV team, but has won both races at that level with times under 20 minutes. That would make her the second-fastest runner on the varsity team. In addition, fellow freshmen Katie Schaefer, Lexi Welton and Ali Liljestrand have had good times and could help the varsity team later this year or in the near future.

Montini Broncos

Coach: Pete Connelly

Conference: N/A

Top runners

------	------

Laura Denmark	jr.
Madeline Jamrozek	sr.
Emma Makowski	jr.
Bianca Montesinos	sr.
Gianna Salzbrunn	jr.

Outlook: The Broncos have made state in Class 2A the past four years and were 11th last year. Five of the runners from that lineup last year are back, although the top two are gone.

Gianna Salzbrunn and Emma Makowski have stepped into the top two spots so far. Salzbrunn was 24th and Makowski 37th in the Class 2A First to the Finish Invitational. Montini was 10th out of 51 teams.

Madeline Jamrozek and Bianca Montesinos are returners as well.

Willowbrook Warriors

Coach: Christine Hasler

Conference: West Suburban Gold

Top runners

Name	Year
Grace Guthrie	so.
Shannon Jones	jr.
Diana Marin	jr.
Jocelyn Rodriguez	jr.

Outlook: Jocelyn Rodriguez was a sectional qualifier last year and has been the team's top runner in each race so far.

She was 13th at the Lyons Township Invite with a time of 17:41 and was 74th at the First to the Finish Invitational at Peoria's Detweiller Park, home of the state race.

Shannon Jones has been behind Rodriguez in the early races. Rodriguez and Jones went 1-2 Monday in the Warriors' 28-29 conference dual win against Hinsdale South.

District 88 seeks job training sites for Voc Ed students

VILLA PARK/ADDISON
— District 88 provides a Vocational Education Program that helps students with diverse needs obtain job training in a community setting and transition to life after high school. The goal of the program is to help students with diverse needs gain work experience and training at outside job locations in the community, and District 88 is looking for more job training sites. The ultimate outcome is for the students to gain independence in the workplace.

Highlights include:

Students are supervised by a District 88 staff member the entire time while on site.

Students will be trained for specific job tasks by District 88 staff based on needs/desires of the business owner.

District 88 will not ask for or expect any form of paid employment at any time.

District 88's desire is to provide a positive, real-life training experience for the students, while at the same time providing a service to the business owner.

District 88 has high standards for students to perform to employer expectations in the areas of behavior, dress/appearance and task completion.

For more information about this program, visit dupage88.net/site/public/

District 88's Eye on Education:

Illinois State Board of Education shares hot topics for fall

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois State Board of Education (ISBE) issued an article last week about several new initiatives and changes, which will help improve education in Illinois.

According to the article, "It's a new day for education in Illinois. We raised expectations for students and teachers, and many are already seeing the benefits in the classroom with innovative instruction practices and more engaged learners. We've worked to develop more meaningful ways of measuring and reporting student progress toward college and career readiness."

Below is an overview of the current efforts and upcoming changes that are transforming teaching and learning in Illinois:

• Implementation of the new Illinois Learning Standards — The clear, consistent and higher expectations of the new standards are changing the way teachers engage and challenge their students by focusing on concept mastery, critical thinking and real-world application. Illinois has already adopted new learning standards in English language arts, math, science and physical education and will soon review art and social studies standards to update and raise expectations in those important subjects as well.

• PARCC 2015 — The Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers (PARCC) exams will debut this school year and aim to measure how well students are mastering content aligned to Illinois' new, more rigorous learning standards tied to college and career readiness. The online assessment system will ultimately offer more timely and meaningful testing data.

• NCLB Flexibility Waiver — ISBE's flexibility waiver from some aspects of the No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB) goes into effect this school year, outlining the state's plan to ensure all students are on track to succeed in college and careers through differentiated accountability, informative data, strong leaders and instructors and support for the neediest schools.

• Teacher Evaluations — Districts continue to implement, or plan to implement, a new comprehensive educator evaluation system that incorporates multiple measures of student growth and professional practice.

• Report Card Metrics — The redesigned Report Card will be released this fall with new features and metrics for 2014, including the full 5Essentials profile and report for districts and schools.

Art Museum debuts new series in the McCormick House

ELMHURST — Continuing the museum's lively exploration of the Ludwig Mies van der Rohe-designed McCormick House located in Wilder Park, the Elmhurst Art Museum is premiering an ongoing exhibition series called "In the House."

On a regular basis, artists, designers and architects will be invited to respond to the modernist structure by producing a site-specific installation in the house that takes into consideration its unique space and history. These presentations encourage conversations between past and present and provide a rare opportunity for artists to work directly with and in this exceptional example of Mies van der Rohe's residential design.

The first artist invited to participate in the series is Laura Davis, a Chicago-based artist whose sculpture and installations examine the intersection of craft, design and art. In the House: Laura Davis was curated by EAM's Chief Curator Staci Boris and is on view at Elmhurst Art Museum now through January 11, 2015.

Davis approaches the McCormick House with a passion not only for the modernist style (minimal form, clean lines, industrial materials) but also with an awareness that in order for "less to be more," certain exclusions had to be made. Her installation Histrionic Restoration reinserts these omissions into the modernist context, from the drama and stuff of everyday life to the value of things past to the female presence in society and art. Davis alters and combines after-market finds (from jewelry to tchotchkes to mid-century modern furniture), appreciating the layered history of these items.

Change is good

Senior Matt Gontarek is thriving on defense for the Addison Trail football team

By Mike Miazga
Correspondent

Matt Gontarek played quarterback on the Addison Trail sophomore football team. A year later he turned in his offensive playbook for a defensive one and hasn't looked back since.

The 5-foot-11-inch, 215-pound Gontarek has been a key performer at the strong safety position for an Addison Trail football team that is off to a fine start in 2014. The Blazers bring a perfect 3-0 record into Friday's West Suburban Conference Gold Division road game against Leyden.

"My quickness and my ability to read everything are my strengths," said Gontarek. "I'm quicker this year and I'm reading everything out there quicker and I'm getting to the ball quicker this year."

Gontarek said making the switch from quarterback to safety took some getting used to.

"It was an adjustment," he said. "The quarterback didn't have to practice tackling. Now I had to know how to hit. I like the fact I'm able to tackle people. If someone is running a slant route toward me and not looking, I have the opportunity to tackle that person."

"I've learned a lot. Being a quarterback before has helped a lot. I had prior knowledge about defense. I can see where things are going to go, pretty much."

Footwork, Gontarek said, is extremely important at the strong safety position.

"The key is always back-pedaling," he said. "You never know if it's going to be a run or pass so you have to stay calm and make sure you break on the ball."

Gontarek said this year's Addison Trail team has made key strides on defense.

"We've made big improvements on defense," he said. "Our heads are where they need to be. I think we have the ability to have a good year here. Last year we got down on ourselves a little bit. All of this hype this year is a little new to us. We can't believe in the hype. We have to keep our heads down each week."

Gontarek said the team's Week 2 win against West Suburban Conference Silver Division entrant Hinsdale Central was important.

"It definitely was a big win," he said. "Our coach said that would be a signature win if we could beat them. It definitely was that."

Gontarek, who also plays basketball at Addison Trail, said he will not play sports in college. Rather, he wants to focus his energies on an atmospheric science and meteorology field of study.

"Ever since I was little I was always interested in the weather and in storms," said Gontarek.

When he's not busy with schoolwork and sports, Gontarek enjoys volunteering for a number of causes. He noted last year he helped pack sandbags.

"I like finding places where I can volunteer," he said. "It helps make the community better."

Gontarek is looking forward to seeing what the rest of the season holds for the Blazers.

"We can't get ahead of ourselves," he said. "We have to keep playing the way we are playing. We can't believe the hype, otherwise it will bring us down. We can't get too confident."

Willowbrook girls volleyball team off to 10-2 start

Warriors win own invitational, take second at Leyden

By Mike Miazga
Correspondent

The season is off to a fine start for the Willowbrook girls volleyball team.

The Warriors were 10-2 overall through late last week thanks in part to a pair of strong performances at their own invitational and at the Leyden Invitational.

Willowbrook won its own Willowbrook Invitational with a 5-0 record and then finished 4-1 and took second at the Leyden event.

The Warriors started the season with a 28-30, 25-21, 25-14 non-conference win over Glenbard North.

Danielle McNamara had eight kills, two solo blocks and two digs. Micala Giammarino had 10 assists and five digs. Kelsey Linnig had 19 assists and nine digs. Mia Railing had nine kills, one assist and 12 digs. Olivia Pennebaker had four kills and five aces. Maya Bullock had eight kills and one dig, while KJ Wangler had four kills, two aces and four digs. Kelly Conley had two aces, two assists and 11 digs.

At the Willowbrook Invitational, the Warriors started with a 25-10, 25-12 win over Walther Christian. McNamara had two kills. Giammarino had one ace and one kill. Linnig had five aces, eight assists and one dig. Railing had three kills, one ace and two digs. Pennebaker had one kill, while Maddie Weinhold had one kill and one assist. Wangler had one kill, one ace and four digs. Kalyon Konrath had one kill, while Conley had one kill, four aces and six digs.

The Warriors then scored a 25-8, 25-23 win over Coal City. McNamara had five kills. Giammarino had two assists. Linnig had two kills, five aces and nine assists. Railing had three kills, one assist and two digs. Pennebaker had one ace. Bullock had three kills, while Weinhold had six assists. Wangler had two kills, two aces and one dig. Jamie Chiappetta had two digs. Konrath had two kills, while Conley had one ace and 12 digs.

Willowbrook then scored a 21-25, 25-12, 15-8 win over District 88 neighbor Addison Trail.

McNamara had six kills, while Giammarino had five assists. Linnig had two aces, nine assists and six digs. Railing had 12 kills, one assist and eight digs. Pennebaker had two kills, three aces and one dig, while Wangler had one kill. Chiappetta had five kills, two aces and four digs. Konrath had two kills and three digs; while Conley had one assist and nine digs.

In a 25-23, 20-25, 25-21 semifinal win over Glenbard North, McNamara had seven kills, one solo block and one dig. Giammarino had eight assists and two digs. Linnig had two kills and 19 assists, while Railing had six kills, two aces and three digs. Pennebaker had four kills and two aces. Bullock had three kills. Wangler had three kills and one ace. Chiappetta had three kills, one ace and one dig. Konrath had one block, while Conley had seven digs.

In the final against Coal City (25-19, 25-15 Willowbrook win), McNamara had six kills and one dig. Giammarino had eight assists and one dig. Linnig had one ace and one assist. Railing had nine kills. Pennebaker had four kills. Lauren Mast added one kill. Wangler had three kills, while Chiappetta had four kills and one dig. Conley had one kill, three aces and four digs.

Willowbrook opened the West Suburban Conference Gold Division portion of the season with a 25-23, 25-20 loss to Hinsdale South.

McNamara had one kill and two digs. Giammarino had six assists and five digs. Linnig had one ace, five assists and one dig. Railing had five kills and four digs. Pennebaker had two kills. Bullock had two kills, one block and one assist. Wangler had seven kills and three digs. Konrath had one kill and Conley had nine digs.

The Warriors then took second at the Leyden Invitational with a 4-1 mark.

Willowbrook dropped a 25-20, 25-18 decision to Chicago Christian. McNamara had one kill and one block. Giammarino had three assists and two digs. Linnig had six assists and two digs. Pennebaker had one kill, two aces and one dig. Mast had two digs. Bullock had three blocks. Wangler had three kills and one dig. Chiappetta had two kills and one dig. Konrath had one kill and Conley had one kill and four digs.

Willowbrook again faced Addison Trail and scored a 25-15, 25-15 victory. McNamara had five kills, one block and one dig. Giammarino had 10 assists. Linnig had one kill, one ace, nine assists and one dig. Pennebaker had four kills. Bullock had three kills. Wangler had six kills, one ace and six digs. Chiappetta had two kills, two aces and three digs. Konrath had one kill and Conley had nine digs.

In a 25-18, 25-19 win over Westmont, McNamara had four kills, one block and one dig.

Giammarino had one ace, five assists and one dig. Linnig had two kills, seven assists and three digs. Pennebaker had three kills and four aces. Mast had one kill and two digs. Bullock had one kill. Wangler had two kills and three digs. Chiappetta had three kills and one dig. Konrath had one kill and one block and Conley had three aces, one assist and eight digs.

In a 26-24, 25-15 win over Niles North, McNamara had five kills and one block. Giammarino had five assists and three digs. Linnig had nine assists and five digs. Railing had eight kills and 11 digs. Pennebaker had one kill, three aces and one dig. Bullock had one kill. Wangler had two kills, four aces and four digs. Chiappetta had one kill and one ace. Konrath had two kills and Conley had one kill, one ace and eight digs.

In a 25-9, 25-13 win over host Leyden, McNamara had five kills. Giammarino had four assists and two digs. Linnig had one kill, two aces, 11 assists and two digs. Railing had three kills, one ace and three digs. Pennebaker had four kills, two aces and three digs. Bullock had one kill, while Wangler had four kills and two digs. Chiappetta had one assist and six digs. Konrath had one block, while Conley had one kill and one ace.

Addison Trail-Willowbrook girls swimming team out to defend title

McNamara has high hopes for 2014

By Mike Miazga
Correspondent

The Addison Trail-Willowbrook girls swimming team would like to make it a threepeat.

AT-Willowbrook won the West Suburban Conference Gold Division title for a second year in a row in 2013 and the team returns plenty of talented swimmers from that team led by senior Kelly McNamara.

McNamara was an All-American and all-state performer in the 100 butterfly. She also was part of the team's 200 freestyle relay state-qualifying team and is a four-time conference champion.

Sophomore Annalise Morone also is back and is a state qualifier and a four-time conference champion.

Senior Molly Hill also brings state-qualifying experience back as well as four conference championships. Junior Meghan Koterba is a state-qualifier and two-time conference champion, while junior Melissa Johnston has four all-conference selections to her credit.

"We have a lot of top-end talent and a roster that can go head-to-head with most teams in invitationals," said AT-Willowbrook coach Paul Anderson. "We have great senior leadership and experience that should go a long way to pushing our younger swimmers."

McNamara is poised to have a stellar senior season. "Kelly is a force to be reckoned with," said Anderson. "She likely is one of the Top 3 swimmers in the state and will go a long way to show that this season. Kelly is making a run at the state championship in the 100 fly and in my opinion the only thing standing in her way is herself. If she does what is necessary and pushes herself then the sky is the limit."

AT-Willowbrook swimmers were active during the summer season.

"A number of swimmers made some adjustments to train with different club teams over the course of the summer," said Anderson. "I believe we are coming into the season in better shape than we were at this point last year."

Anderson feels the team's senior leadership could carry the team far this season. "Our senior leadership is encouraging," he said. "There is such a trickle down from them as to what the girls need to do to be successful that it is infectious. I also think our work ethic cannot be beat. Watching these girls on a daily basis is not work, but is fun."

Anderson also is expecting a big year from Hill. "Molly Hill could be a multiple-time state qualifier when it is all said and done," he said. "I think she has grown up a lot and should finish her senior year on a high note."

Anderson said the race in the West Suburban Conference Gold Division will be a close and competitive one.

"I really don't know where we will fit in," he said. "Our lack of diving always is a killer and the other teams have made some strides over the past year. Further, our health has been an issue for a few swimmers and we need to get them back to 100 percent. That being said, I know we will be in the Top 3, but I think it is a coin flip between us, Hinsdale South and Downers Grove South."

Week 4 Preview

Willowbrook (0-3) at York (2-1)

When: Friday, 7:30 p.m.

Where: York High School, Elmhurst

Last week: Hinsdale South 40, Willowbrook 20, Hinsdale Central 41, York 21

Last year: Willowbrook 28, York 13

Outlook: The Hinsdale schools were not kind last week to Willowbrook and York with Hinsdale South and Hinsdale Central scoring 20-point wins over both squads. This is an important fork-in-the-road game for each team. Willowbrook would break into the win column, while York could put itself closer to playoff eligibility with its third win.

Week 4 Preview

Addison Trail (3-0, 1-0) at Leyden (0-3, 0-0)

When: Friday, 7:30 p.m.

Where: Leyden High School

Last week: Addison Trail 21, Downers Grove South 0, Lyons Township 45, Leyden 0

Last year: Leyden 41, Addison Trail 20

Outlook: A vastly improved Addison Trail football team has scored successive wins over Glenbard South, Hinsdale Central and Downers Grove South—all squads that made the playoffs a year ago. Addison Trail won two games last year. Leyden's first three games have been losses by scores of 20-7 (Buffalo Grove), 48-14 (Oak Park-River Forest) and 45-0 (Lyons Township).

Week 4 Preview

St. Edward (3-0) at IC Catholic Prep (1-2)

When: Saturday, 1 p.m.

Where: Lewis Stadium at Plunkett Athletic Complex, Elmhurst

Last week: St. Edward 33, Riverside-Brookfield 7, IC Catholic Prep 35, Walther Christian 0

Last year: IC 21, St. Edward 17

Outlook: IC broke into the win column with a shutout of Walther Christian in Week 3. Now the Knights face an undefeated St. Edward team at home. St. Edward downed Riverside-Brookfield by 26 points last week and beat its first two opponents (Genoa-Kingston and Chicago Clark) by a combined score of 80-20.

Boys soccer team returns experience

By Mike Miazga
Correspondent

The Addison Trail boys soccer team made progress a year ago.

The Blazers won nine games and lost by a goal in the regional championship game. The squad is looking to take things to the next level with a roster rich in returning varsity players and talented newcomers.

"We had two freshmen start for us that are back as sophomores," said Addison Trail coach Ryan Dini. "The majority of our starting lineup last year was juniors, so we have a lot of seniors back. We also took on a tougher schedule last year. We played four teams that finished in the final eight of the state series and we beat one of those teams. We're looking to build onto the success we had last year."

The Blazers return the likes of senior center midfielder Elias Leyva, who plays with the Chicago Fire Academy in the offseason and is coming off a 2013 injury-shortened season. He scored four goals for the Blazers in six games last year.

Also back is senior sweeper Sergio Marin, a three-year varsity starter on defense who earned all-conference honors last season. "Sergio is very fast and has excellent ball skills," said Dini.

Sophomores Tom Kania (forward) and Uriel Martinez (center mid) also return. "Tom has good speed and size and will be a force up top for us and Uriel is a really good distributor and patrols the middle of the field for us," said Dini.

Senior goalie Jonah Moran also will help. Moran is a third-year varsity starter in net.

Freshman midfielder Jonathan Hernandez (midfield), sophomore outside midfielder Izvic Quintana and sophomore forward Ruben Amaro are key newcomers to the team.

"Jonathan plays like a junior-year player already," said Dini.

Week 4 Preview Elmwood Park (1-2) at Fenton (3-0)

When: Friday, 7:15 p.m.

Where: Fenton High School, Bensenville

Last week: Glenbard South 47, Elmwood Park 7, Fenton 34, Ridgewood 21

Last year: Fenton 48, Elmwood Park 13

Outlook: Fenton certainly is carrying the momentum of last year's playoff qualification into this season with a perfect 3-0 start. This will be Fenton's final non-conference game before the start of Metro Suburban Conference West Division play. Elmwood Park's only win was a 13-8 Week 1 decision over St. Joe's. Fenton is 9-3 over its last 12 regular-season games.

"He has good size and speed and will be a great addition to our team. He is a high-energy player and has very good leaping ability. Izvic played on our sophomore team as a freshman. He is very skilled on the outside and will be huge for us when we get him the ball in space. Ruben also has good size and speed. He played with the sophomore team as a freshman, so this is a big step for him being on the varsity team. He will improve as the year goes on. He has scoring ability."

Dini said the team's starting lineup will feature five seniors, three juniors, two sophomores and a freshman.

"We have continued to play some of the best teams in the state and look to build upon each game this season," he said. "Our goal is to be playing our best soccer once the state tournament starts. We expect to finish in the top half of our conference. We have some very skilled players coming back with varsity experience and we expect our defense to be very good."

Addison Trail took second in the West Suburban Conference Gold Division in 2012 and third place last year.

"For our conference, Morton has won the title the last couple years and all the teams are looking to try to take the title away from them," said Dini. "It will be interesting since our conference is very competitive. We will struggle early with so many new faces on the varsity team, but we hope by the end of the season we are hitting on all cylinders. Our schedule is stacked with some of the best teams around and in doing so we will be prepared for what we will face in the state playoffs."

National Public Lands Day coming Sept. 27

ADDISON — National Public Lands Day is Saturday, September 27, and there is a great way for you to lend a hand right here in Addison. If you're looking to earn service hours, give us a few hours on a Saturday morning and the Addison Park District will feed you lunch in return.

More than 200 volunteers took part in last year's fall bulb-planting event at the Addison Park District and even more are expected this year. Volunteers from local service clubs and community organizations, including the Addison Fire District, Addison Cowboys Football team, the Addison Frogs swim team and others, planted more than 2000 daffodil and tulip bulbs before winterizing the grounds with mulch last year.

Volunteer groups, families and individuals can participate in Addison by planting spring-blooming bulbs, pulling invasive weeds, spreading mulch, grooming trails - and have fun getting back to nature - in a variety of neighborhood parks. An appreciation cookout will be held immediately following as a thank you for volunteering. Advanced registration is requested by calling (630) 233-7275 or visit addisonparks.org

Village of Villa Park acquires its own stump grinder

The Village of Villa Park recently purchased a 2014 Carlton Model 7500 stump grinder to remove tree stumps. The Villa Park Village Board authorized the $47,750 purchase during the Aug. 25 board meeting.

The village purchased the unit—a demo unit with 96 hours of use—from Alexander Equipment Company Inc. of Lisle. The money for the purchase will be taken from the village's equipment replacement fund.

The village forestry division requested the purchase to remove stumps of trees killed by the emerald ash borer infestation. The village previously borrowed stump grinders from the forestry departments of Addison, Naperville and River Forest.

According to Rich Salerno, Villa Park's superintendent of streets and forestry, a village crew used the newly purchased stump grinder to grind a total of 44 stumps in two days during the first week of September. Salerno said the crew's time is divided between tree removals, tree trimming and stump grinding. He said the village has also contracted with private companies for tree removals.

Villa Park forestry workers spent last week helping the Village of Palatine recover from recent storm damage. Salerno said he hopes the forestry crew will resume grinding stumps in Villa Park this week.

Rail project to cause delays on UP Metra West Line through Oct. 15

A major rail replacement project that began Monday is altering midday and weekend train schedules for Metra Union Pacific West Line riders.

According to a news release issued by Metra, Union Pacific will replace the rail on nearly 13 miles of track between Kress Road (in West Chicago) and Elburn from Sept. 15 through Oct. 15. The work is taking place on Track No. 1, which regular Metra riders would know as the northernmost or inbound track. The rail was originally laid in 1980 and has reportedly reached the end of its useful life.

A construction schedule will be in effect throughout the project, with delays of 10 minutes expected for midday trains on weekdays and delays of 15 minutes for weekend routes. The news release stated that the nature of the replacement project and the amount of rail traffic in the corridor may lead to additional delays.

The construction schedules are posted on Metra's Web site at www.metraail.com. The site will provide updated information throughout the course of the project.

To minimize the impact on Metra Union Pacific West Line riders and shorten the time frame of the project, workers will be deployed seven days a week and plan to limit single-track operations to weekends. Union Pacific plans to divert as much freight traffic as possible away from the corridor to reduce interference with passenger service.

0, matched the visiting Wildcats through the opening half. Neuqua Valley, however, took control of the game in the ensuing two quarters.

The Wildcats outscored the Rams 20-0 in the second half on the way to a 26-6 victory in Lombard. Glenbard East fell to 2-1 overall and 0-1 in the conference, while Neuqua Valley moved to 1-2 overall and 1-0 in conference play.

Glenbard East committed six turnovers in its previous game, a 14-7 victory over Oswego East on Sept. 12. The visiting Wolves also turned the ball over six times in that game. The Rams had three turnovers against Neuqua Valley. The Wildcats committed a pair of turnovers.

"They beat us 20-0 in the second half," said Glenbard East coach John Walters after the team's first loss of the season. "We turned the ball over last week and survived. We turned the ball over this week and got beat by a good football team."

The Rams took an early lead after scoring on their opening drive of the game, marching 40 yards in five plays. Senior Dominic Wilbertson scored on a 1-yard run to give Glenbard East a 6-0 lead with about seven minutes to play in the first quarter. Neuqua Valley responded with a touchdown drive, scoring on a 4-yard run about two the third quarter and tacked on one touchdown early in the final period.

"It wasn't one big play," said Walters in explaining the Rams' troubles in the second half. "We turned the ball over and weren't able to maintain any offensive pressure. You can't turn the ball over as many times as we have and be successful."

The Rams will try to even their conference record at 1-1 this Friday, when they will head to East Aurora to face the Wildcats (0-3).

Willowbrook

Teams generally prefer to play on their own field, but after opening the 2014 season with three straight home losses, the Warriors might be eager to play on the road.

Willowbrook kicked off its West Suburban Gold Conference schedule with Friday's 40-20 loss to Hinsdale South (3-0) on a cool and damp evening in Villa Park.

The Warriors will return to action this Friday, when they will head to Elmhurst to take on York (2-1) of the West Suburban Silver Conference.

Willowbrook trailed Hinsdale South 14-0 late in the second quarter. It looked like the Hornets would soon add to their lead. Hinsdale South pushed the ball inside the Warriors' 10-yard line before lining up a short field-goal attempt with less than two minutes left in the first cut the Hornets' lead to 14-7.

The Hornets scored with less than 30 seconds to play in the half to take a 20-7 halftime lead. The Warriors tied the game at 20-20 following a touchdown run by David Harris and a defensive touchdown by Jake Henderson, who recovered a fumble and ran for a touchdown. Hinsdale South then scored 20 straight points to end the game.

Montini

The Broncos ran into a Chicago Catholic League powerhouse on Friday when they traveled to St. Rita. The undefeated Mustangs overran Montini 21-0 in Chicago, sending the Broncos' season record to 1-2.

The Montini program had played its last 95 games without being shut out, dating back to a 24-0 first-round playoff loss at Marian Central Catholic in 2006.

St. Rita, which improved to 3-0, compiled over 300 rushing yards in Friday's game, which was played in cold and wet conditions. The Mustangs held a 14-0 lead at halftime and added one more score in the third quarter.

The Broncos will visit another tough Chicago program this Friday. Montini, which joined the Chicago Catholic Green Conference, will open its conference schedule with a game at De La Salle (1-2). The Meteors fell to 1-2 after Saturday's 35-30 loss at Fenwick.

JUNIOR-ALLISON FARRELL (above) of the Glenbard East girls volleyball team hits a serve during Thursday's match against Glenbard North. Farrell provided seven kills and eight digs to help the Rams beat Glenbard North 25-20, 25-17 in Lombard. Glenbard East improved its overall record to 9-4 with the victory.

The Glenbard East girls volleyball team improved its 2014 season record to 9-4 with Thursday's 25-20, 25-17 non-conference win over Glenbard North in Lombard.

"They did a nice job and found a way to win the ball game," said Glenbard East coach Marci Maier of the Rams, whose roster features seven juniors. Several of those juniors spent significant time on the court for the varsity team last season.

"We were playing sophomores last year, and they took their lumps," added Maier. "They weren't satisfied with who they played last year. They worked hard in the off-season. All the credit goes to the girls for coming in here mentally tough and ready to go this year."

Glenbard East and Glenbard North were longtime rivals in the DuPage Valley Conference, but the Rams joined the Upstate Eight Conference at the beginning of the current school year. Glenbard East's conference record fell to 0-2 after a three-game loss to Neuqua Valley on Sept. 9. The Wildcats defeated the Rams 25-17, 17-25, 25-18. Junior Allison Farrell piled up 11 kills in that match, while senior Sam Bell had 16 assists. Juniors Jessie Spontak and Sammie Sarles provided 13 and 12 digs, respectively. Glenbard East opened its conference schedule with a three-game loss to West Aurora on Sept. 2.

"To be honest, we played better against Neuqua Valley than we did tonight [against Glenbard North]," said Maier on Thursday.

Farrell bashed a team-leading seven kills and eight digs for Glenbard East during Thursday's win over the Panthers. Senior Sarah Murphy added five kills, while juniors Emily Hamaker and Elin Ream supplied four and three kills, respectively. Bell provided 18 assists and Spontak had six digs and two service aces. Junior Magda Dabrowski made four blocks.

"We pick up a lot of balls on defense, and we are very balanced on offense," said Maier in describing the team. "We don't necessarily go to one player [on offense]. We have multiple players who can put a ball down."

The Rams' season so far has included third-place performances in weekend tournaments at Metea Valley (Aug. 30) and Conant (Sept. 6). Glenbard East will play at a tournament at Glenbard West this Friday and Saturday.

Willowbrook

The Warriors won four of five matches at Leyden's tournament on Saturday, earning a second-place showing in the event. Willowbrook opened the tournament with a 25-20, 25-18 loss to Chicago Christian. The Warriors won their next four matches of the day, beating Addison Trail (25-15, 25-15), Westmont (25-18, 25-19), Niles North (26-24, 25-15) and Leyden (25-9, 25-13). Willowbrook held an overall season record of 10-2 through Saturday's matches.

Senior Kelsey Linnig had a total of 42 assists during the tournament at Leyden. Junior Danielle McNamara accounted for 20 kills in the event, while senior K.J. Wangler delivered 17 kills.

The Warriors opened the West Suburban Gold Conference season with a 25-23, 25-20 loss to Hinsdale South on Sept. 9. Wangler had seven kills, while senior Mia Raitling supplied five kills. Junior Kelly Conley made nine digs. Senior Micala Giammarino and Linnig contributed six and five assists, respectively.

Rams win their own invitational

The Glenbard East girls tennis team won the championship of its own six-team Ram Invitational on Saturday. The Rams scored a total of 26 team points in the event, which featured three flights in both singles and doubles. Lake Park finished second with 21 points.

The Rams won two singles titles and one doubles championship at the invitational Freshman Kollie Altea won top honors in the No. 1 singles flight with a convincing 6-1, 6-1 win in the championship match of that level. Sophomore Priscilla Palermo of the Rams captured the No. 2 singles title. She didn't lose a game in her division's title match, posting a 6-0, 6-0 victory. Seniors Jenny Danan-Cudia and Maggie Roth teamed up to give Glenbard East a title in No. 2 doubles. The duo split the first two sets of its championship match before earning a 10-6 win a tiebreaker. Junior Sam Fraughton turned in a second-place showing in No. 3 singles. Stephanie Chlopek and Bella Colangelo teamed up to claim second place in the No. 3 doubles flight.

Junior Rams to hold tryouts

The Junior Rams basketball program for girls in grades 5-8 will hold tryouts on Tuesday, Oct. 7, and Thursday, Oct. 9. Each tryout session will take place from 7-9 p.m. in the Glenbard East field house.
