

IC seniors eye state finals

By DAN SANTAROMITA
dsantaromita@shawmedia.com

ELMHURST – After spending four years on varsity, IC Catholic softball seniors Jessica Conenna and Gabby Curran are hoping they can end their careers at state.

The two have signed to extend their softball careers in college, but first they want to guide the Knights to the promised land. Conenna, a stand-out two-way pitcher who will pitch at Northern Illinois, and Curran, a shortstop committed to Dominican University, both believe the Knights have what it takes.

“I just think overall we’re playing the best throughout my four years,” Conenna said. “We’re all around more versatile and all around closer together.”

IC entered Thursday’s game against Fenton with a 19-3 record. The Knights received the top seed in a Class 2A regional, which they will host starting May 18.

After making it to a sectional final last year, the Knights are hungry for more.

“I really think we do have the talent to go downstate and I think that would be a great way to end senior year,” Curran said. “We’ve always had a lot of talent here, but for the past four years we’ve been struggling with it a little bit. We really put it together this year. It’s great to see all the rewards from all the hard work we put in.”

Conenna has a 1.78 ERA with five shutouts and 130 strikeouts, including seven outings with 10 or more strikeouts, this season. She’s also hitting .419 with 24 RBIs in 20 games.

“I just want to make this season count and make it memorable,” Conenna said. “I think I’m just more determined on the mound as a senior. I’m more mature on the mound.”

Meanwhile, Curran is earning her leadoff spot in the order with a .519 batting average, 21 stolen bases and 35 runs scored.

“This year I’ve definitely taken more of a leadership role on the team,” Curran said. “I was voted captain so I definitely realized that I have certain expectations for myself and I expect that from the team. I’m really taking this team on as my own. I feel like this is my team. Same with Jess, being on varsity for four years. This is our year.”

Lindsey Montoya, another four-year varsity player, and Jackie Pochop, a newcomer to the team, also are a part of the four-player senior class. The seniors are hoping their legacy is take IC softball to state for the first time.

“When we’re right and we play well I think we can beat anybody in 2A,” coach Frank Reaber said.

IC Catholic’s Jessica Conenna delivers a pitch April 23 during a home game against Glenbard South. A four-year varsity player, Conenna and her fellow seniors are hoping to take the Knights to state this season.

BREAKOUT PLAYERS

New stars emerging for area baseball, softball teams

By DAN SANTAROMITA
dsantaromita@shawmedia.com

Each spring provides a chance for baseball and softball players to make their mark, some for the first time at the varsity level. Here are a few players having breakout seasons on the diamond:

BASEBALL

Chris Roycroft

School: Willowbrook

Year: Senior

Impact: Roycroft is following up a strong basketball season with a dominant spring on the mound. He has a 0.77 ERA and a 4-1 record in five starts. Roycroft has struck out 37 in 27 1/3 innings.

Matt Sabatini

School: York

Year: Senior

Impact: Sabatini got off to a rocky start in nonconference play, but the pitcher has rattled off three straight complete-game victories in West Suburban Silver starts, including shutouts against Lyons Township and Downers Grove North. He has a 2.81 ERA.

Michael Sebby

School: Glenbard East

Year: Junior

Impact: Sebby was on varsity last year, but has turned into a true ace this spring. His effectiveness hasn't always translated into wins, but he has been solid with a 2.08 ERA and 34 strikeouts in 30 1/3 innings.

Nick Villasenor

School: Addison Trail

Year: Sophomore

Impact: Villasenor has emerged as the Blazers' ace, and a good one at that. He has a 1.52 ERA and four wins this spring, while striking out 44 batters in 46 innings.

SOFTBALL

Nikki Cuchran

School: Montini

Year: Freshman

Impact: Montini has plenty of returning talent this season, but Cuchran has stepped right in and contributed as a freshman. On a team that hits plenty of home runs, the third baseman is tied for the team lead with seven home runs.

Kaitlyn Falduto

School: IC Catholic

Year: Sophomore

Impact: Falduto was on varsity last year, but has become an everyday player in the lineup at second base this season. She is one of the team's most improved players according to coach Frank Reaber. Kyra Kroll

School: York
Year: Freshman

Willowbrook boys gymnastics team enjoying season to remember

Warriors finish conference dual-meet season with perfect 4-0 mark

By Mike Miazga
Correspondent

The Willowbrook boys gymnastics team is poised to make some big noise the next few weeks.

The Warriors finished West Suburban Conference Gold Division dual-meet action with a perfect 4-0 mark and posted a season-high 146.3 team score in a recent WSC Gold victory over Downers Grove South.

"We're having a great season," said Willowbrook coach John Wronkiewicz.

Wronkiewicz noted the recipe for the team's success in 2015 boils down to two key factors.

"We have stayed healthy and we're doing good gymnastics," he said. "We have three good all-around gymnasts and the rest of the team is built around them."

Those three all-around talents include seniors Keawe Winstead and Bret Golz along with freshman Adam Sousa. Winstead, a state qualifier last year, was a sectional champion as well last spring on pommel horse.

Wronkiewicz said Sousa is around 50 right now with his all-around score, while Winstead and Golz are in the 47 range.

Sophomore Bailey Hepner, a two-year gymnast and another all-arounder, also has made an impact for the Warriors, who headed into last week's West Suburban Conference Gold Division meet seeking their second league title in three years.

"Bailey is doing a nice job progressing in the sport," said Wronkiewicz.

The coach also lauded the work of the Willowbrook junior-varsity team.

"We have a strong junior varsity," said Wronkiewicz. "We'll take strong JV guys and plug them into certain events in the dual meets."

Willowbrook has thrived in the horse and horizontal bar events.

"Hi-bar and pommel horse have been our strongest events," said Wronkiewicz. "That's huge because those usually are the events teams struggle with the most. Our guys have been very good in those events."

Wronkiewicz said team unity also must be factored into his team's success package. "It's a well-bonded team that gets along so well," he said. "It's like one big family here of brothers. They look out for each other. They all want each other to do well. That's one big Willowbrook freshman all-arounder Adam Sousa (performing a floor routine at a March meet) has his score around 50 and is poised for more, according to Warriors coach John Wronkiewicz.

Willowbrook senior boys gymnast Keawe Winstead is a returning state qualifier. The Warriors open postseason action Saturday at the Hoffman Estates sectional.

Willowbrook senior Bret Golz, shown on the rings, is an all-around who has helped the Warriors to a high score of 146.3 this season.

Addison Trail names April recipient of 88's Best recognition

ADDISON — Jerold Macaya has been named as Addison Trail's April recipient of 88's Best recognition for his success in the performing arts. Jerold, a senior, was recognized during the April 27 District 88 Board of Education meeting.

When Jerold first entered Addison Trail, his intent was to focus on academics only. However, he decided to try out for the school's choral performing group, Shades of Blue, as a sophomore. Jerold excelled in Shades of Blue, and his teacher, Jeff Nellesen, encouraged him to try out for the school musical. He did just that and earned the lead role in "Once on this Island" his junior year. He also starred as Beast in "Beauty and the Beast" his senior year and earned several other roles in other productions. Jerold intends to casually pursue acting in independent theater companies in college. He also has been a member of Concert Choir and qualified for the Illinois Music Education Association (ILMEA) All-District Choir this year.

"I'll never forget hearing Macaya's voice for the first time and being blown away," said Anna Jakubka, Theatre Director. "During his first show, he earned the leading male role. Since then, he has caught the theatre bug. However, he remains extremely humble and full of gratitude. He was cast in all three shows during his senior year. Macaya is a talented student, and I am so proud to have worked with him these past few

Jerold said he enjoys the collaboration that occurs through theatre.

"In theatre, you come to realize there are big things you can't accomplish alone," Jerold said. "It's the culmination of so many people building sets, rehearsing roles and dancing — we're making something that's greater than what you yourself can achieve."

Along with his achievements in the performing arts, Jerold also has been successful academically. He is enrolled in numerous Advanced Placement (AP)/college-level courses, as he prepares to pursue a career in the medical field.

"Macaya has been in choir for the past two years and has been the epitome of a musician," Nellesen said. "With no formal singing training, he has been a fast learner and leader in my classroom. If it isn't already apparent from his time on stage, Macaya is a natural performer."

Jerold also has participated in cross-country all four years, track during his freshman and sophomore years, Key Club (in which he held the position of Secretary), Psychology Club and Science Olympiad (of which he is Vice President).

Jerold plans to attend University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign and major in biology. In the future, he would like to be a physician with a specialty in anesthesiology or nephrology.

Art Guild's final meeting of season May 17

ADDISON — The Addison Art Guild will hold its last meeting of the season beginning at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, May 17, in Room 1301 at the Addison Village Hall, One Friendship Plaza.

The guest artist will be Suzanne Hetzel who will present a floral watercolor demonstration.

This Chicago area artist does pseudo-realistic paintings in watercolor. While they appear realistic, a close look reveals how the artist incorporates a variety of techniques, including salt, scratching, splashing, pouring and repel to create the finished effect.

The artist works primarily from life and her imagination, using photographs only as reference. Her passion is aqueous media as an expression of the world around her. She is interested in the forms of nature combined with the structures of man, and the endless variety they present.

Hetzel said, "I have a genuine attraction for groups of things, and the way they interact visually. It is fascinating how objects can be so similar and so different at the same time."

"Artists cannot be defined by a media or a subject. Their inspiration and form of expression must change to keep growing creatively."

Hetzel is an award-winning artist who has written and illustrated books, designed and painted mural and exhibited in many prestigious shows.

May is membership month for AAG, and guests are welcome. For more information about membership, call 630-833-8677 or write to AAG at One Friendship Plaza, Addison 60101.

Addison Trail boys track team wins second invitational in a row

Blazers boys volleyball team defeats St. Charles East

By Mike Miazga
Correspondent

The Addison Trail boys track team continued its strong showing by winning the recent Glenbard South Invitational.

It was the Blazers' second invitational title in a row. Addison Trail also won the Elgin Invitational. In winning the Elgin Invitational, the Blazers set meet and school records for most team points scored with 322 (Addison Trail finished 30 points ahead of second-place Maine West). The Elgin meet was scored in an A-B-C format which allowed for multiple relays per relay event as well as points being awarded at all three levels and then being summed into one grand-total score.

Addison Trail won the Glenbard South title with only three first-place finishes. "Our depth was very evident," said Addison Trail coach Bruce Kelsay, who noted the team scored points in almost every running event."

The Blazers were behind by three points in the team standings with two events remaining and secured the team championship thanks to a second- and third-place finishes in the 200 and a victory in the 1,600 relay.

Darrion Conrad was second in the 200 and brother, Darius, was third in the event.

Addison Trail's first-place 1,600 relay team included Rayan Baig, Donovan Granados, Albino Lucero and Darius Perez.

Jordyn Carr-Jones won the 110 high hurdles for the Blazers, while the 800 relay team of Baig, Taylor White, Darius Conrad and Darrion Conrad also took first.

Addison Trail boys volleyball

The Addison Trail boys volleyball team recorded a 25-11, 25-17 non-conference win over St. Charles East.

Jack Vrchota had six kills and two blocks. Alex Dickmann added five kills and three blocks. Kannon Nelms had three kills and two blocks. Joey Nasti had 17 assists and two kills. Zach Vaca had two kills and five digs, while Jonny Valentini had two kills and six digs. Arlind Rojba chipped in with eight digs. The win moved Addison Trail to 15-5 overall.

In earlier action, the Blazers won their own Addison Trail Invitational with a 5-0 mark. The Blazers scored wins over Wheaton Academy (25-21, 25-12), Glenbard North (25-19, 25-17), St. Charles North (25-13, 25-14), Chicago Latin School (25-8, 25-9) and Elk Grove (25-22, 25-20). Addison Trail downed Elk Grove in the title match.

Girls track team getting ready for stretch run

Blazers competing at conference meet Thursday

By Mike Miazga
Correspondent

The Addison Trail girls track team has been moving forward, but coach Dave Pytko feels the best is still to come.

"We haven't been able to string together our varsity or the frosh-soph like we would have liked," he said. "It's been kind of a hodgepodge. We've had some good results at the invitationals we've been to but we don't have too much going on as a team yet. We haven't been able to be consistent as a team varsity-wise yet to have other people notice what we do. A lot of little things have gotten in the way of us being at our best. When we do come together and are able to run what we want, we will be pretty competitive. These girls have a lot of pride and want to continue the positive trend that was started here last year."

Pytko noted the team has enjoyed some strong individual performances. Lauren Kroll, a state qualifier last year in the 200, ran 16.5 in the 100 high hurdles race at Willowbrook and then ran 26.23 in the 200 at Oswego where she took third. This year's state-qualifying standard in the 200 is 25.94.

"Lauren definitely has had good time improvement since last year," said Pytko.

Lynnette Banuelos ran 62 seconds in the 400 recently.

Pytko said the team's relays have been improving and so has Alyssa Viera in the throws. She's gone over 100 feet in the discus this spring.

Relay-wise Pytko said the 400 and 800 relay teams of Klea Gjonaj, Kim Schonder, Maria D'Ugo and Kroll have been making progress.

Pytko added the frosh-soph group of athletes has been making positive strides as well.

"The frosh-soph team is doing well. They are sticking together as a unit," he said. "I can't say enough about them. They are learning how to run. A lot of them are so new to track. They are putting in a lot of hard work and I'm working hard with them as well."

Looking ahead, Pytko feels the team has the potential to have several sectional medalists.

"I don't know how close we are going to come to state-qualifying times, but we will have some respectable times to where we have the chance to medal in the sectional meet," he said.

Pytko is hopeful Banuelos and Suhei Valbuena can both go under 1:00 in the 400 race. He added Kroll, who is running the 200, could switch to the 100 at sectionals.

"Suhei has run 1:03 in the 400 and has come on very strong," said Pytko. "We're hopeful both can go under 1:00. They are a couple of solid 400 runners."

Addison Trail competes in the West Suburban Conference Gold Division meet Thursday at Hinsdale South. The sectional is a week later.

Boys track team has five individual champions at Glenbard South

Warriors girls soccer team off to 2-0 conference start

By Mike Miazza
Correspondent

The Willowbrook boys track team fared quite well at the recent Glenbard South Invitational.

The Warriors earned 16 personal records and came home with five individual champions. "We currently are running our athletes at their level," explained Willowbrook coach TJ Artman. "The freshmen are running in the freshman races and the sophomores in the sophomore races. It puts some holes in our lineup but we want the boys to experience competition at their level and have some fun being out front."

At Glenbard South, Jimmy Funteas Jr. won the 800 varsity title. At the sophomore level, Eddie Tribue won the 100 and 200 races, while Casey King won the 800 and Freddie Clay won the 400.

Artman has been pleased with the progress seniors Funteas Jr. and Donnie Hawkins have been making. "Donnie in the 300 hurdles and 200 and 400 dashes is racing his fastest times of the season and his career right now," said Artman. "He is an integral part of our sprint relays and is a captain."

Funteas Jr. is a major presence for the Warriors in the 3,200, 800 and 1,600 races. "Jimmy is on the verge of breaking two minutes in the 800," said Artman. "That's a major mental barrier. He's looking great training-wise as we head into the county, conference and sectional races."

Juniors Josan Murphy and Marco Martinez are two additional cogs in the Warriors' lineup. Murphy, a sprinter, had been sidelined with an injury for two weeks but was expected to return last week for Willowbrook's home meet, Artman said.

"Josan should be off and racing with no problem," Artman added.

Martinez, who runs distance races for Willowbrook, ran well at Glenbard South amidst pouring rain conditions. "Marco ran our fastest mile at Glenbard South in nasty conditions," said Artman. "He's coming along nicely. Marco is a great kid with a huge competitive attitude."

King and Tribue, who starred at Glenbard South, are two young talents Artman has high hopes for. "Casey is a distance runner and jumper," the coach noted. "His 800 time is dropping and his triple jump is getting further. We're running him on the lower levels for now, but he will find himself on the varsity when the time comes. Eddie is a sprinter who brings the speed in any event we put him in. Like Casey, he will find himself racing with the big boys in the big meets."

Artman is looking forward to the upcoming big meets.

"Our end of the season is shaping up nicely. We are excited and ready to race at the county meet, the conference meet at Morton and the sectional back at York," said Artman. "It's going to be a fun and exciting time of the year with this crew."

Willowbrook girls soccer

The Willowbrook girls soccer team was off to a 2-0 start in West Suburban Conference Gold Division play. The Warriors were 8-8 overall through late last week.

In recent games, the Warriors lost a 2-0 non-conference game to Glenbard East and scored a 3-0 WSC Gold win over Leyden.

The Warriors hit the road Thursday for a WSC Gold game at Morton.

It takes most softball teams a long time to rack up 45 hits.

In the case of the Willowbrook softball team, it took only two games.

The Warriors put on an offensive display for the ages in a pair of West Suburban Conference Gold Division wins against Leyden and Hinsdale South.

thing as coaches that we set out for them—to be a well-bonded team. It's nice when you have that sense of family."

Willowbrook will compete in the sectional meet at Hoffman Estates High School Saturday where berths in the state meet will be on the line.

"When the season started we had the team goals of staying healthy and doing good gymnastics," said Wronkiewicz. "If you can do that then generally good things are going to happen for you. We've done a good job of keeping everybody healthy going into the state series."

The coach said the team does have its eye on a long-standing school record. The Willowbrook boys gymnastics team score record stands at 147.55, a feat accomplished by the 1981 squad.

"We're getting close to that and one of our goals is to beat that record," said Wronkiewicz. "It's definitely doable."
