

Kannon Nelms receives 88's Best honor for September

ADDISON — Kannon Nelms has been named as Addison Trail's September recipient of 88's Best recognition for his academic accomplishments. Nelms, a senior, was recognized during the Aug. 31 District 88 Board of Education meeting.

Having taken an array of Advanced Placement (AP)/college-level and honors classes since entering Addison Trail, Nelms has received an "A" grade in all of those courses. This summer, he received a perfect score of 36 on his ACT, the college admissions exam. He received a score of 35 the previous three times he took the exam, but he wanted that perfect score.

"Nelms is a student for whom even the most superlative descriptors do not seem adequate praise," said social studies teacher Laura Magnavite. "But here goes — he is brilliant, articulate, gregarious, thoughtful, dedicated, droll and, most importantly, a role model to his peers, instructors and school community of how to deal with life's 'curve balls' with grace and steadfastness. He was a joy to teach!"

Nelms was a member of the Boys Volleyball Team that made school history last year by placing 3rd at the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) State Tournament. He also went to Florida last spring as a National Qualifier in DECA. He participates in Psychology Club, National Honor Society, Academic Team, Math Team and Pay It Forward, along with numerous community service

For the past seven years, Nelms has been working to earn the rank of Eagle Scout, and he completed his Eagle Scout project this summer for Addison Trail (he renovated the shot-put area and built a shed to store equipment). He has pride in his school and has made every effort to show this through example.

"Even with all of his athletic and academic accolades, Nelms has managed to stay grounded," said Rob Schader, Physical Education Department Chair. "He is one of the nicest and most genuine kids around. Nelms doesn't create problems — he finds solutions. While others are complaining and giving up, he is thriving. Kids gravitate to him because he is such a great guy."

Social studies teacher and boys volleyball coach Dan Styler agreed.

"The way Nelms processes information and his analysis of gaining a tactical advantage against opponents are truly unheard of from a player of his age," Styler said. "He is a dynamic individual, both on and off the court. Although the Blazer Nation is fortunate to have Nelms for one more year, I can't wait to see how he applies his skill set to change the world beyond the walls of Addison Trail."

While he hasn't yet decided which college he will attend, Nelms has his sights set on the Ivy League schools and Stanford University. He plans to study engineering or an area in the science field.

AECC plans community resource fair

ADDISON — The Addison Early Childhood Collaborative is sponsoring its 4th Addison Community Resource Fair on Thursday, September 24 from 5:30-7:30 p.m. at Indian Trail Junior High, 222 N. Kennedy Drive in Addison.

The theme of the fair is "Nourishing the Body and Mind" and will emphasize the connections between a healthful diet, activity, and academic success. Since habits developed in childhood often carry into adulthood, teaching healthful habits and modeling these behaviors at home and throughout the community helps ensure children have the necessary foundation needed to succeed. Free yoga and Zumba sessions will be offered and attendees are encouraged to come to the fair dressed to participate in these sessions.

Community organizations will be providing information and access to a variety of services for families including family health and nutrition; child, family and relationship support; educational and financial resources; housing support and more. Refreshments, crafts, and raffles will also be available to make this event fun for the entire family.

Willowbrook cross country teams looking to take the next step

All-conference performer Martinez returns for boys; Shannon Jones, Marin lead girls

By Mike Miazga
Correspondent

There is a little added emphasis in the word "team" this year for the Willowbrook boys cross country team.

"There is a strong sense of team this year," said Willowbrook coach TJ Artman. "They do everything together. We're missing the individual front-runner that I've always seemed to have, but we have a great pack that is very close together, which is something I haven't had like this year's pack. We have a group of 10 guys who literally are training right with each other in every workout. It lends itself to a great team effect and efforts. They truly are working for themselves and the guy right next to them."

Willowbrook, which finished fourth in the West Suburban Conference Gold Division last year, returns seniors Marco Martinez, Chris Turek and David Chernov, junior Casey King and sophomore Mike Isaacson. Senior Henry Dahl is a key newcomer to the team.

"It's early in the season, but our focus is the last four races of the season," said Artman. "Everything else is in preparation for those big races."

Artman is looking for his veteran runners to take on key leadership roles.

"I expect the older, experienced racers to be responsible leaders on and off the course and do their jobs. If they do that we will accomplish our team goals," he said.

"I'm looking forward to watching the younger, inexperienced varsity racers develop into great racers."

Artman said teams to keep an eye on in the

WSC Gold are Morton and Downers Grove South. "We want to go after the WSC championship title," he said. "The consistent champions are Morton and Downers Grove South, but we're always looking to upset that reign," he said.

Willowbrook opened the conference season by defeating Proviso East. "We ran OK and won, but we will need to be faster as the season progresses," said Artman.

Willowbrook girls cross country

"The team has been doing a great job of running together as a pack and encouraging each other to stay strong," Willowbrook coach Christine Hasler said. "Our captains, Shannon Jones and Diana Marin, have done an excellent job motivating the team and continuing to work hard."

Hasler said team work will be a key for the Warriors. "Every runner has a purpose in the race," she said. "We continue to focus on team running and using each other to build confidence and stay focused on our goals."

Hasler said Downers Grove South is the team to keep an eye on. "Downers Grove South has been the frontrunner and we hope to continue to challenge the competition for one of the top spots in the conference. We always want to be a top contender in the conference and then see how far we can go into the postseason."

Willowbrook recently opened the conference season with wins at all levels against Proviso East. In the varsity race, Palma was the winner. Marin took second. Leon-Cervantes was third, while Guthrie was fourth and Klingelhoffer was fifth.

Cervantes leads list of returners for Addison Trail boys cross country

Blazers girls volleyball team defeats Elgin

By Mike Miazga
Correspondent

Addison Trail boys cross country coach Brad Donaldson noted last year's underclass team enjoyed success at that level.

Now, some of those runners have advanced to the varsity squad and Donaldson is hoping that success can be used to help with the transition to the next level this fall.

"We are very young," he said. "The heart of the team will be juniors and sophomores. They had a great season as underclassmen last year but need to rise up to varsity-level competition this year."

Back for the Blazers are Demetrio Cervantes and Julio Cervantes. Demetrio Cervantes, the school record-holder for boys cross country, was a sectional qualifier last year as a sophomore. Newcomers to the team include sophomores Nate Czorniak, Danny Bueno and

David Reyes.

"We're working on understanding the team racing concept and pack running," said Donaldson. "We really hope to build on their successful season as a frosh-soph team and hope that will help instill a spirit of competition that will challenge them to push themselves every day."

Addison Trail girls volleyball

The Addison Trail girls volleyball team scored a recent three-set non-conference win over Elgin.

Anastasia Labadessa had one ace, 27 assists and three digs for the Blazers. Carla Muell had three digs. Ciara Williams had three aces, five kills and seven digs. Danielle Tulke added two aces and 11 digs. Jessica Mell had eight kills, hit .438 and had five digs.

Keara Schmitt added one ace, five kills and one dig. Nicci Scorza had one ace, two kills and one dig and Sarah Petbok had six aces, eight kills and nine digs.

Addison Trail had 14 service aces in the match to go with 28 kills and 40 digs.

Willowbrook boys golf team competes at Oswego Scramble

Warriors girls golf team improving

The Willowbrook boys golf team recently participated in the 18-team Oswego Scramble invitational at par-72 Blackberry Oaks in Bristol.

Willowbrook placed 10th in the event with a 63. This was a five-player scramble. The winning round was a 58.

The Warriors shot a 29 on the front and a 34 on the back. Senior Nick Tiberi was named the team MVP for the event. Also playing were junior Jake Neiswanger, sophomore Tim Keefe, senior Pete Dziak and junior Sam Malito.

Willowbrook also dropped a 156-164 West Suburban Conference Gold Division contest to Hinsdale South at Sugar Creek. The loss put Willowbrook at 2-2 on the season.

Tiberi tied for meet medalist honors with a 38. Senior Max Sarovich added a 41. Keefe shot 42 and Neiswanger shot a 43.

Willowbrook girls golf

While the win-loss ledger might not show it, the Willowbrook girls golf team is making progress.

"We have a young and inexperienced team and we struggle sometimes," said Willowbrook coach Jim White. "This group is constantly improving and gaining more confidence. It's tough to play against the conference teams that excel as well as perform at the state level each year."

Willowbrook dropped recent conference matches to Addison Trail, Hinsdale South and Glenbard West.

"I am proud of our team because it continues to show pride and dignity for the school as well as for the game," said White. "There are no excuses, but a willingness to become better at some part of their game. They are a team and conduct themselves in such a manner."

Sophomore Sophia Parrillo continues to make strides on the course. "Sophia is making gains on her personal-best score each match," said White. "I believe the one thing that brings them all back is the 'one' shot, whether it's a chip-in from 30 yards or a solid drive or making a long putt. That's the game of golf."

Village Manager Rich Keehner. Trustees Don Kase and Chris Aiello sought to table the idea until all avenues for grant funding were exhausted.

"I'm 100 percent behind this," Kase said, "I just want it to be the best for (the Veterans.)"

Village Director of the Parks and Recreation Department Greg Gola said staff was continuing to seek grants, but could start some in-house work as soon as the plan was approved. Regrading the turf and removing the current sidewalk would be done by Village staff while the concrete work would go out for bid.

An ambitious timeline to complete the park by Veterans Day on Nov. 11 was considered, but the 3D Design Studio spokesperson said it would be nearly impossible to finish the work that early. The best bid proposal could be voted on as early as the Sept. 28th Board of Trustees meeting, leaving just two weeks for construction. The work should be finished before the end of 2015, however.

"I don't want to do that memorial fast," Trustee Aiello said. "I want to do it perfect."

Sally Nijim named 88's Best for September

VILLA PARK — Sally Nijim has been named as Willowbrook's September recipient of 88's Best recognition for her academic accomplishments. Nijim, a senior, was recognized during the Aug. 31 District 88 Board of Education meeting.

As a student, Nijim consistently pursues the most rigorous courses available at and beyond her high school. At the conclusion of her career at WBHS, she will have successfully completed 15 Advanced Placement (AP)/college-level courses, a multitude of honors courses and five college courses. As a result of her academic success, Nijim has maintained a class ranking within the 99th percentile, earned a perfect score of 36 on the ACT (a national college admissions exam), has been named as an AP Scholar with Distinction and has been named to the Illinois State Board of Education (ISBE) Student Advisory Council. Beyond the classroom, Nijim is involved in a variety of clubs and activities, including chairing Relay For Life and competing in Science Olympiad, Math Team and Scholastic Bowl.

Outside of Willowbrook, Nijim has completed two independent research internships during her high school career, including the study of preventing infectious disease and targeting the nuclear pathway to treat cancer. Those experiences have resulted in her being a co-author of published research findings and being awarded the LMI Aerospace Inc. Award for Excellence in Research. Nijim also was named Grand Champion of Southern Illinois University STEM Center's Science and Engineering Research

Challenge, qualifying her to compete in and be a finalist for the 2015 Intel International Science and Engineering Fair and Competition.

"Nijim is an extremely intelligent and gifted young woman, but her incredible academic success is largely attributable to her approach toward learning," said Matt Clapper, social studies teacher. "She is passionate about learning new things, has a positive attitude and outlook and displays a work ethic that is second to none. She is an active and engaged learner, who enriches the classroom experience for all those around her."

Math teacher Chris Carr agreed.

"Nijim is a scholar in every sense of the word," Carr said. "She is self-motivated and dedicated to the art of learning. What is even more impressive is she has an awesome personality to add to her impressive mind. Gracious and endearing, I have no doubt Nijim will go on to do impressive things. It also should be noted she earned a perfect score of 5 on the AP Stats exam."

English teacher Terri Woebel said while Nijim's academic accomplishments are impressive, her genuine kindness is what makes her stand out as a student.

"Nijim is thoughtful, generous, humble and kind," Woebel said. "For a student to be both giving and exceptionally intelligent is a gift to our school."

Nijim is applying to top-tier universities, including Stanford University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) and California Institute of Technology (Caltech), where she plans to major in biology and chemistry and pursue a career as a physician-scientist.

Cervantes leads list of returners for Addison Trail boys cross country Blazers girls volleyball team defeats Elgin

By Mike Miazga
Correspondent

Addison Trail boys cross country coach Brad Donaldson noted last year's underclass team enjoyed success at that level.

Now, some of those runners have advanced to the varsity squad and Donaldson is hoping that success can be used to help with the transition to the next level this fall.

"We are very young," he said. "The heart of the team will be juniors and sophomores. They had a great season as underclassmen last year but need to rise up to varsity-level competition this year."

Back for the Blazers are Demetrio Cervantes and Julio Cervantes. Demetrio Cervantes, the school record-holder for boys cross country, was a sectional qualifier last year as a sophomore. Newcomers to the team include sophomores Nate Czorniak, Danny Bueno and

David Reyes.

"We're working on understanding the team racing concept and pack running," said Donaldson. "We really hope to build on their successful season as a frosh-soph team and hope that will help instill a spirit of competition that will challenge them to push themselves every day."

Addison Trail girls volleyball

The Addison Trail girls volleyball team scored a recent three-set non-conference win over Elgin.

Anastasia Labadessa had one ace, 27 assists and three digs for the Blazers. Carla Muell had three digs. Ciara Williams had three aces, five kills and seven digs. Danielle Tulke added two aces and 11 digs. Jessica Mell had eight kills, hit .438 and had five digs.

Keara Schmitt added one ace, five kills and one dig. Nicci Scorza had one ace, two kills and one dig and Sarah Petbok had six aces, eight kills and nine digs.

Addison Trail had 14 service aces in the match to go with 28 kills and 40 digs.

There is a little added emphasis in the word "team" this year for the Willowbrook boys cross country team.

"There is a strong sense of team this year," said Willowbrook coach TJ Artman. "They do everything together. We're missing the individual front-runner that I've always seemed to have, but we have a great pack that is very close together, which is something I haven't had like this year's pack. We have a group of 10 guys who literally are training right with each other in every workout. It lends itself to a great team effect and efforts. They truly are working for themselves and the guy right next to them."

Willowbrook, which finished fourth in the West Suburban Conference Gold Division last year, returns seniors Marco Martinez, Chris Turek and David Chernov, junior Casey King and sophomore Mike Isaacson. Senior Henry Dahl is a key newcomer to the team.

"It's early in the season, but our focus is the last four races of the season," said Artman. "Everything else is in preparation for those big races."

Artman is looking for his veteran runners to take on key leadership roles.

"I expect the older, experienced racers to be responsible leaders on and off the course and do their jobs. If they do that we will accomplish our team goals," he said.

"I'm looking forward to watching the younger, inexperienced varsity racers develop into great racers."

Artman said teams to keep an eye on in the

WSC Gold are Morton and Downers Grove South. "We want to go after the WSC championship title," he said. "The consistent champions are Morton and Downers Grove South, but we're always looking to upset that reign," he said.

Willowbrook opened the conference season by defeating Proviso East. "We ran OK and won, but we will need to be faster as the season progresses," said Artman.

Willowbrook girls cross country

"The team has been doing a great job of running together as a pack and encouraging each other to stay strong," Willowbrook coach Christine Hasler said. "Our captains, Shannon Jones and Diana Marin, have done an excellent job motivating the team and continuing to work hard."

Hasler said team work will be a key for the Warriors. "Every runner has a purpose in the race," she said. "We continue to focus on team running and using each other to build confidence and stay focused on our goals."

Hasler said Downers Grove South is the team to keep an eye on. "Downers Grove South has been the frontrunner and we hope to continue to challenge the competition for one of the top spots in the conference. We always want to be a top contender in the conference and then see how far we can go into the postseason."

Willowbrook recently opened the conference season with wins at all levels against Proviso East. In the varsity race, Palma was the winner. Marin took second. Leon-Cervantes was third, while Guthrie was fourth and Klingelhoffer was fifth.

The Willowbrook boys golf team recently participated in the 18-team Oswego Scramble invitational at par-72 Blackberry Oaks in Bristol.

Willowbrook placed 10th in the event with a 63. This was a five-player scramble. The winning round was a 58.

The Warriors shot a 29 on the front and a 34 on the back. Senior Nick Tiberi was named the team MVP for the event. Also playing were junior Jake Neiswanger, sophomore Tim Keefe, senior Pete Dziak and junior Sam Malito.

Willowbrook also dropped a 156-164 West Suburban Conference Gold Division contest to Hinsdale South at Sugar Creek. The loss put Willowbrook at 2-2 on the season.

Tiberi tied for meet medalist honors with a 38. Senior Max Sarovich added a 41. Keefe shot 42 and Neiswanger shot a 43.

Willowbrook girls golf While the win-loss ledger might not show it, the Willowbrook girls golf team is making progress.

"We have a young and inexperienced team and we struggle sometimes," said Willowbrook coach Jim White. "This group is constantly improving and gaining more confidence. It's tough to play against the conference teams that excel as well as perform at the state level each year."

Willowbrook dropped recent conference matches to Addison Trail, Hinsdale South and Glenbard West.

"I am proud of our team because it continues to show pride and dignity for the school as well as for the game," said White. "There are no excuses, but a willingness to become better at some part of their game. They are a team and conduct themselves in such a manner."

Sophomore Sophia Parrillo continues to make strides on the course. "Sophia is making gains on her personal-best score each match," said White. "I believe the one thing that brings them all back is the 'one' shot, whether it's a chip-in from 30 yards or a solid drive or making a long putt. That's the game of golf."

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL PREVIEW

York sets sights on state; AT, IC, TC looking strong

By DAM SANTAROMITA
dsantaromita@shawmedia.com

The high school girls volleyball season culminates at the state finals on Nov. 14, and teams from across the state harbor dreams of reaching Redbird Arena in Normal to play for a title. Here's the outlook this season for Addison Trail, IC Catholic, Timothy Christian and York.

Addison Trail Blazers

Coach: Dan Styler
Conference: West Suburban Gold

Top players

NAME	YEAR	POSITION
Jessica Mell	sr.	MB
Sarah Petrbok	jr.	OH
Nicole Pudlo	sr.	MB

Outlook: The Blazers endured a young roster last year en route to a 9-24 record, and now is the time to cash in on last year's youth.

Addison Trail still is largely junior dominated with just three seniors on the roster, but many of those juniors were on varsity last year. Middles Jessica Mell and Nicole Pudlo and outside hitter Sarah Petrbok are three-year varsity players.

AT is hovering around .500 in the early part of the season but has shown improvement. The Blazers picked up a win against District 88 rival Willowbrook in three sets as part of a tournament hosted by the Warriors.

IC Catholic Knights

Coach: Nancy D'Amore
Conference: Metro Suburban West

Top players

NAME	YEAR	POSITION
Katie Harvey	sr.	MB/DS
Katie Hendricks	jr.	MB
Claudia Koch	sr.	OH
Kerry Mulligan	sr.	L/DS
Tess Reardon	jr.	S/OH

Outlook: The Knights have won sectional titles in Class 2A each of the past two seasons, but a move up to Class 3A will provide a tougher postseason test.

Three-year varsity players Claudia Koch, Kerry Mulligan and Tess Reardon lead the way. Koch moves from middle blocker to outside hitter this season to get her more involved in the attack. Mulligan and newcomer Giana Curran will lead the team's defensive effort. Reardon, who was all-conference last year, remains both a setter and outside hitter.

After a 4-8 record in the Metro Suburban West last year, the Knights are off to a 3-0 conference start with wins against Wheaton Academy, Fenton and Aurora Central Catholic.

"Our goal is to improve our position in conference and compete for the top spot," coach Nancy D'Amore said. "This year's team has a great energy and chemistry - fun to coach and fun to watch."

Timothy Christian Trojans

Coach: Scott Piersma
Conference: Metro Suburban East

Top players

NAME	YEAR	POSITION
Kendra Teune	jr.	OH
Dani Van Laten	sr.	S
Ava Venema	jr.	MB

Outlook: After a spectacular 36-3 season that included a shared conference title and a sectional final appearance, the Trojans are hoping to duplicate last year's success.

TC lost four-year varsity standouts in libero Hannah Markewycz and hitter Kacie Stoll but returns six players and four starters from a year ago.

Senior setter Dani Van Laten had 777 assists and 56 aces in an all-conference season last year. Returning juniors Kendra Teune and Ava Venema also had more than 100 kills each as sophomores.

"We are looking forward to another strong year," coach Scott Piersma said. "We are striving for a fifth consecutive conference championship and to defend all four [regular-season] tournament championships."

The Trojans entered Metro Suburban East play earlier this week with a 6-1 record, including winning the co-hosted TC/Westmont Invite on Sept. 5.

York Dukes

Coach: Patty Iverson
Conference: West Suburban Silver

Top players

NAME	YEAR	POSITION
Ally Mann	sr.	OH
Alexandra Preuss	sr.	OH
Sarah Rose	jr.	S
Halle Truett	sr.	L

Outlook: York entered the season with high expectations and backed it up with a win against defending state champion Benet at the Redwings' tournament.

However, losses to St. Charles North and Marist sandwiched that tournament and showed the Dukes still have to work on consistency. When the Dukes are on, though, there's not many teams that can play with them.

"The two matches that we lost the other team played well and we did not play [well]," coach Patty Iverson said. "We really have to learn how to get our tempo and how to figure out how to handle our side of the court."

Senior outside hitter Alexandra Preuss is one of the most dominant hitters in the state. She and fellow senior Halle Truett, the team's libero, are four-year varsity players and are being recruited by Division I programs. Junior setter Sarah Rose also has been on varsity since her freshman year and was named the tournament MVP at Benet.

Ally Mann has worked her way into becoming another strong weapon at outside hitter. She and Preuss are capable of hitting from the back row, which gives Rose plenty of setting options.

"We've only made it fourth in state ever so we're saying 'Beat fourth,'" Mann said. "Beat fourth place. Our goal is to do that."

Iverson backed up Mann's big talk, but with the expected restraint of a coach.

"I really tell them that we are capable of great things," Iverson said. "We just have to jell with the lineup. We've got to figure out what it is and work next to each other. We'll get there."

- WHERE: 1250 S. Ardmore Ave., Villa Park
- RECORDS: AT 1-1, Willowbrook 1-1

The Warriors opened the season with a 42-21 loss at Glenbard East, but rebounded with a 16-6 win at Proviso West. Addison Trail had an impressive Week 1 win against Glenbard South, but struggled offensively in a loss at Oak Park-River Forest.

Blazers hang tough but fall against OPRF

SUBURBAN LIFE MEDIA

OAK PARK – Things started well for Addison Trail in its Week 2 game at Oak Park-River Forest, but gradually the Huskies wore down the visiting Blazers.

Michael Hundley got AT on the board first with a short touchdown run, but the Huskies were able to take a lead into halftime and pulled away for a 35-7 victory in a West Suburban Conference crossover.

OPRF (2-0) tied the game at 7-7 in the first quarter and scored in the final minute of the first half to take a 14-7 lead into the break. In the second half, it was all Oak Park.

The Blazers (1-1) struggled on offense against a stout Huskie defense. Quarterback Ryan Zygowicz was just 1-for-15 through the air and the running game with Hundley struggled to get going after halftime.

AT's defense held out for a while. OPRF didn't extend its lead until the final minute of the third quarter, but two fourth-quarter touchdowns put the game out of reach.

Looking for a bounce-back performance, the Blazers will take on Willowbrook in Week 3. It is the West Suburban Gold opener for both teams.

The Lady Trophy has been up for grabs in the regular-season finale the past two years, but this time around the game opens conference play.

Willowbrook is coming off a 16-6 win against Proviso West, which was the only win for the West Suburban Gold in the WSC crossovers in Week 2. The Warriors trailed 6-3 at halftime, but the defense shut out the Panthers in the second half.

Ricobene, Rowell lead IC's romp vs. Evergreen Park

By DAN SANTAROMITA

dsantaromita@shawmedia.com

ELMHURST – Just about everything was working offensively for IC Catholic in its Week 2 win against Evergreen Park.

Sophomore quarterback Luke Ricobene passed for 300 yards and three touchdowns, all to different receivers, and junior running back Jordan Rowell did what Knights fans have become accustomed to seeing from him. Rowell rushed for four touchdowns in the 56-28 victory on Sept. 5.

"Jordan had a standout game, but that's normal Jordan Rowell," IC coach Bill Krefft said.

Normal Jordan Rowell has asserted himself as one of the most prolific running backs in the state. It also helps that Ricobene has become a force at quarterback.

Ricobene benefits from the attention Rowell gets from opposing defenses, but he also runs IC's offense with surprising efficiency for a sophomore. It is no surprise to Krefft, who has seen Ricobene develop as a smart quarterback, especially for a 15-year-old not even halfway through high school.

"He's like having a coach on the field," Krefft said. "He's running our system as a sophomore. Last year he did not get the reins of the system ... this year he runs all of it. To not have to lessen your offensive system with a sophomore quarterback is outstanding."

IC also is getting solid play from its offensive line. Krefft raved about the six-man offensive line rotation of seniors Jeremy Annicella, Jack Lamborn, Anthony Silva, Jesus Unzueta and Thomas Gibbons and junior captain Jim Kenneally.

Patrick Jordan, Patrick Guinan and Andy Guzman each caught touchdowns from Ricobene against Evergreen Park. Praise went all around to the offense, which is what happens when a team scores 56 points.

"Our offense has really been keeping us in football games and carrying us," Krefft said. "Ricobene has done a nice job running the offense and all five offensive linemen did a great job."
